

Inspiring world-class
teaching professionalism

gtc
SCOTLAND
GENERAL TEACHING
COUNCIL FOR SCOTLAND

The Standard for Full Registration

Mandatory Requirements for Registration with the General Teaching Council for Scotland

Formal Enactment 2 August 2021

Contents

Introduction	3
1 Being a Teacher in Scotland	4
1.1 Professional Values	4
1.2 Professional Commitment	5
1.3 Standard for Full Registration	6
2 Professional Knowledge and Understanding	7
2.1 Curriculum and Pedagogy.....	7
2.2 Professional Responsibilities.....	8
3 Professional Skills and Abilities	9
3.1 Curriculum and Pedagogy.....	9
3.2 The Learning Context.....	10
3.3 Professional Learning	11

Introduction

Professional Standards for Teachers in Scotland

The Professional Standards, with professional values at the heart, support and promote partnership, leadership, enquiry and professional learning. They describe teacher professionalism in Scotland, our 'way of being'. Professional Standards for teachers in Scotland have multiple purposes:

- to create a shared language for teaching professionals;
- as a benchmark for professional competency;
- to develop and enhance professionalism;
- to support career-long professional growth;
- to provide a framework for Initial Teacher Education, probation and leadership pathways and programmes; and
- to ensure and enhance public trust and confidence in the teaching profession.

Professional Standards for teachers were first established in Scotland in 2000. They were reformed in 2012 and enacted in 2013 as a reconceptualised model of teacher professionalism supported by the introduction of Professional Update. The discussion to review the 2012 Professional Standards began in 2017 and concluded in a set of refreshed and restructured Professional Standards with an enactment date of 2 August 2021.

The Standard for Provisional Registration is the benchmark of competence required of all student teachers at the end of Initial Teacher Education who are seeking provisional registration with the General Teaching Council for Scotland (GTC Scotland). This Professional Standard outlines what is required to become a teacher in Scotland.

The Standard for Full Registration is the foundation of the Professional Standards and is the benchmark of competence required of all registered teachers in Scotland. This Professional Standard is the gateway to the profession and constitutes the teaching standards in which learners, parents, the profession itself and the wider community can have confidence. This Professional Standard encompasses what it is to be a teacher in Scotland.

The Standard for Career-Long Professional Learning provides an aspirational and developmental framework for teachers. It describes the advanced professional knowledge and pedagogical expertise that registered teachers could develop and maintain as they continue to progress in teaching and the education profession. This Professional Standard supports the professional growth of teachers in Scotland.

The Standard for Middle Leadership and The Standard for Headship provide aspirational and developmental frameworks for teachers in/or considering leadership roles. They outline the strategic vision, professional knowledge and understanding, interpersonal skills and abilities and professional illustrations that support teachers in leadership roles. These Professional Standards provide a framework for professional growth for teachers in leadership roles. Consequently, they have some additional purposes:

- support for self-evaluation and reflection for teachers in, and aspiring to, formal leadership roles in our schools;
- informing the process of recruitment and selection; and
- contributing to dialogue about leadership and management.

The Standard for Headship has the additional purpose of being a requirement for teachers permanently employed in Headteacher roles from August 2020.

The suite of Professional Standards is underpinned by the interdependent themes of professional values, Learning for Sustainability and leadership. The Professional Standards provide the framework for all teachers in Scotland to enhance their professionalism and ensure rigour and challenge that supports a resilient and enabled profession confident in the skills, knowledge and values needed to enable Scotland's young people to develop skills for learning, life and work.

Scotland's Professional Standards actively support, embrace and promote the principles and practices of sustainability across all aspects. This means understanding and valuing environment, culture and heritage, developing a sense of place and belonging to the local, national and global community. It also means having a deep connection to the natural world and understanding the significance of the choices we make – now and in the future.

The Professional Standards are organised into interrelated categories with Professional Values and Professional Commitment at the heart. These elements are inherently linked to each other and one aspect does not exist independently of the others. It is this inter-relationship among all the categories which enables the professionalism of the teacher and leads to appropriate professional action and growth.

1 Being a Teacher in Scotland

Our increasingly interconnected and rapidly changing world faces many social, environmental and economic challenges, and an effective, responsive and inclusive education system is vital if we are to address these. Engaged, reflective, empowered and skilled teachers and learners acknowledge Scotland's place in the world, our history, our differences and diversity, our unique natural environment, and our culture based on social justice. Scotland's teachers help to embed sustainable and socially just practices in order to flourish as a nation.

The Professional Standards outline what it means to become, to be and to grow as a teacher in Scotland. A commitment to the professional values of social justice, trust and respect and integrity are at the heart of the Professional Standards and underpin our relationships, thinking and professional practice in Scotland.

The educational experiences of all our children and young people are shaped by the professional values and dispositions of all those who work to educate them. Values are complex: they are the ideals by which teachers shape their practice as professionals. Starting with teachers as individuals, values extend to our learners, our colleagues and community and to the world in which we live.

Professional values help to develop our professional identity and underpin a deep commitment to all learners' cognitive, social and emotional growth and wellbeing. They provide the foundation to support and encourage teachers to see the whole child or young person and their needs. They are integral to, and demonstrated through, all our professional relationships, thinking and actions and all that we do to meet our professional commitment as teachers registered with GTC Scotland.

As part of teacher professionalism, professional values are required to be enacted in everyday practice both within and outwith the educational establishment. They support us to ask critical questions of educational theories, policies and practices and to examine our own attitudes and beliefs. Values, and the connections between values and actions, require regular reflection over the course of teachers' careers as society and the needs of learners change and as understanding develops. Our commitment to career-long professional learning is a critical part of developing our professionalism. Enquiring and collaborative professionalism is a powerful force in developing teachers' agency and delivering our commitment to engaging children, young people, their families and communities in the education process.

1.1 Professional Values

Social Justice

Social justice is the view that everyone deserves equal economic, political and social rights and opportunities now and in the future.

- Promoting health and wellbeing of self, colleagues and the children and young people in my care.
- Building and fostering positive relationships in the learning community which are respectful of individuals.
- Embracing global educational and social values of sustainability, equality, equity, and justice and recognising children's rights.
- Respecting the rights of all learners as outlined in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) and their entitlement to be included in decisions regarding their learning experiences and have all aspects of their wellbeing developed and supported.
- Demonstrating a commitment to engaging learners in real world issues to enhance learning experiences and outcomes, and to encourage learning our way to a better future.
- Committing to social justice through fair, transparent, inclusive, and sustainable policies and practices in relation to protected characteristics, (age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion and belief, sex, sexual orientation) and intersectionality.
- Valuing, as well as respecting, social, ecological, cultural, religious, and racial diversity and promoting the principles and practices of sustainable development and local and global citizenship for all learners.
- Demonstrating a commitment to motivating, and including all learners, understanding the influence of gender, social, cultural, racial, ethnic, religious and economic backgrounds on experiences of learning, taking account of specific learning needs and seeking to reduce barriers to learning.
- Demonstrating a commitment to supporting learners who are experiencing or who have experienced trauma, children and young people from a care experienced background and understanding responsibilities as a corporate parent.
- Understanding and challenging discrimination in all its forms, particularly that which is defined by the Equality Act 2010.

Trust and Respect

Trust and respect are expectations of positive actions that support authentic relationship building and show care for the needs and feelings of the people involved and respect for our natural world and its limited resources.

- Promoting and engendering a rights respecting culture and the ethical use of authority associated with one's professional roles.
- Acting and behaving in ways that develop a culture of trust and respect for self, others and the natural world.
- Understanding, acknowledging, and respecting the contribution of others in positively influencing the lives of learners.
- Understanding health and wellbeing and the importance of positive and purposeful relationships to provide and ensure a safe and secure environment for all learners and colleagues within a caring and compassionate ethos.
- Respecting individual difference and supporting learners' understanding of themselves, others and their contribution to the development and sustainability of a diverse and inclusive society.

Integrity

Integrity is the practice of being honest and showing a consistent and uncompromising adherence to strong moral and ethical principles and values.

- Demonstrating kindness, honesty, courage, and wisdom.
- Being truthful and trustworthy.
- Critically examining professional beliefs, values and attitudes of self and others in the context of collegiate working.
- Challenging assumptions, biases and professional practice, where appropriate.

1.2 Professional Commitment

Making a professional commitment to learning and learners that is compatible with the aspiration of achieving a sustainable and equitable world embodies what it is to be a teacher in Scotland. This means teachers commit to living the professional values and engage in lifelong learning, reflection, enquiry, leadership of learning and collaborative practice as key aspects of their professionalism. This commitment to professional learning and growth, to the growth of learners, and to helping support that of colleagues, is demonstrated through engagement with all aspects of professional practice. It is demonstrated by working collegially, in English or Gaelic medium with all members of our learning communities with enthusiasm, adaptability, critical thinking and associated constructive, professional dialogue.

A core component of teachers' professional commitment is understanding the needs of all learners. Some children and young people may have a barrier to wellbeing and learning associated with a range of circumstances such as the learning environment, family circumstances, disability or health need, and social and emotional factors. This includes learners with additional support needs such as: Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) and Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD); Autism; Developmental Coordination Disorder (Dyspraxia) (DCD); Dyslexia; and Tourette syndrome. Teachers recognise, see and acknowledge the value in everyone and have a deep awareness of the need for culturally responsive pedagogies. They promote equality and diversity, paying careful attention to the needs of learners from diverse groups and in upholding children's rights.

Upholding the professional values of social justice, trust and respect and integrity requires a commitment to leadership that inspires confidence and encourages aspiration. This commitment underpins leadership of learning in all contexts and change for improvement. It values the contribution of others, challenges biases and assumptions and applies critical thinking to make effective decisions, in the interests of maintaining and improving the quality of education and leading to improved outcomes for all children and young people in Scotland.

The professional commitment of teachers in Scotland is to lead learning through:

- developing deep knowledge of learning and teaching;
- critically examining how our teaching impacts on learners; and
- using evidence collaboratively to inform teacher judgement and next steps for learners.

1.3 Standard for Full Registration

Professional Values and Professional Commitment are at the core of the Standard for Full Registration. They are integral to, and demonstrated through, all our professional relationships and practices. They are central to the delivery of high-quality learning and teaching, aimed at improving outcomes for all learners and contributing to efforts to achieve a sustainable and equitable world. The personal and professional qualities of sustainability and social justice, integrity, trust and respect and professional commitment are crucial if we are to inspire and prepare learners for success in our increasingly complex, interdependent and rapidly changing world.

'Learning for Sustainability' is a whole-school commitment that helps the school and its wider community develop the knowledge, skills, attitudes, values and practices needed to take decisions which are compatible with a sustainable future in a just and equitable world. Learning for Sustainability has been embedded within the suite of Professional Standards to support teachers in actively embracing and promoting principles and practices of sustainability in all aspects of their work.

All teachers are leaders of and for learning. They lead learning of, and with, all learners with whom they engage. They also work with and support the development of colleagues and other partners. The Standards for Registration include a focus on leadership of and for learning.

The Standard for Full Registration is the gateway to the profession and the benchmark of teacher competence for all teachers. It must therefore constitute standards of capability in relation to teaching, with reasonable adjustments as required, in which learners, parents, the profession itself and the wider community can have confidence.

The scope of this document is limited to defining expectations of teachers and does not address in detail how judgements will or should be made. It is not intended that the Professional Actions should be used as a checklist. In broad terms, the person reviewing the work of a teacher needs to be reassured that the capabilities described by the Professional Standard are achieved. Where it is thought that further development is needed, the Professional Actions provide a focus for what needs to be done.

Having attained the Standard for Full Registration teachers will continue to develop their expertise and experience across all areas of their professional practice through appropriate and sustained career-long professional learning. The Standard for Career-Long Professional Learning has been developed to support professional teacher growth and to identify, plan and develop their own professional learning needs and to ensure continuing development of professional practice.

The purposes of the Standard for Full Registration are:

- a clear and concise description of the professional qualities and capabilities probationer teachers are expected to attain;
- a professional standard against which reliable and consistent recommendations and decisions can be made on the fitness of new teachers for full registration with GTC Scotland;
- a clear and concise description of the professional qualities and capabilities fully registered teachers are expected to maintain and enhance throughout their careers;
- a benchmark standard of professional competence which applies to teachers throughout their careers.

The Professional Standards are organised into interrelated categories with Professional Values and Professional Commitment at the heart. These categories are inherently linked to each other in the development of teachers, and one aspect does not exist independently of the others. It is this inter-relationship among all of the categories which develops a teacher's understanding, practice and professionalism. Effective and systematic Professional Review and Development (PRD) and Professional Update processes support fully registered teachers' ongoing learning.

2 Professional Knowledge and Understanding

2.1 Curriculum and Pedagogy

2.1.1 Have a depth of knowledge and understanding of Pedagogical Theories and Professional Practice
Professional Actions	As a registered teacher you are required to demonstrate a depth of knowledge and understanding of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ pedagogical and learning theories, and draw on these appropriately to inform: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - curriculum design and content where appropriate taking account of Gaelic medium; - classroom organisation, learning environment and structures; - planning, learning and teaching and assessment; - interdisciplinary learning; - outdoor learning, including direct experience of nature and other learning within and beyond school boundaries; - additional support needs; ■ the stages of learners' cognitive, mental, social, emotional, physical, and psychological development and know how to use this information to support learning and wellbeing; ■ digital technologies to support learning; and ■ how to take account of the gender, social, cultural, racial, ethnic, religious and economic context of learners and how to adapt practices accordingly.

2.1.2 Have a depth of knowledge and understanding of Research and Engagement in Practitioner Enquiry
Professional Actions	As a registered teacher you are required to demonstrate a depth of knowledge and understanding of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ how to access and apply relevant findings from educational research; ■ research and engagement in professional/practitioner enquiry; and ■ how to have an enquiring stance in relation to your own practitioner enquiry, working ethically, individually and/or collaboratively, to challenge and inform professional practice.

2.1.3 Have a depth of knowledge and understanding of Curriculum Design
Professional Actions	As a registered teacher you are required to demonstrate a depth of knowledge and understanding of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ principles of curriculum design and how these can be applied to learning in different sectors and contexts; ■ theory and practical skills required in curricular areas as set out in current national and local guidelines; ■ the value of learning beyond curricular areas/subject boundaries and of cross curricular subjects, e.g. literacy, numeracy and health and wellbeing, Learning for Sustainability and digital literacy; ■ processes used to change and develop the curriculum; ■ curriculum content and its relevance to the education of every learner; ■ interdisciplinary learning between curricular areas, stages and/or sectors; ■ the skills and competencies that comprise teacher digital literacy and know how to embed digital technologies to enhance teaching and learning; and ■ the need to take account of learners with additional support needs.

2.1.4 Have a depth of knowledge and understanding of Planning for Assessment, Teaching and LearningProfessional Actions

As a registered teacher you are required to demonstrate a depth of knowledge and understanding of:

- how to plan for effective assessment, teaching and learning, individually and collaboratively, across different contexts, and in order to support the needs of every learner;
- how to adapt planning approaches to ensure that the needs of every learner are effectively addressed;
- individual and collaborative approaches to a wide range of assessment, recording and reporting as an integral part of learning and teaching;
- national assessment requirements and requirements of other relevant awarding and accrediting bodies; and
- the positive impact of engaging learners in dialogue about their progress and how to provide meaningful feedback to support and agree next steps.

2.2 Professional Responsibilities2.2.1 Have a depth of knowledge and understanding of Education Systems*Professional Actions

As a registered teacher you are required to demonstrate a depth of knowledge and understanding of:

- the principal national and international influences on Scottish education, and their relevance to learning and teaching in the local context;
- how to critically engage with current, relevant legislation, policies and national and local guidance;
- contractual, pastoral and legal responsibilities, for example, in relation to equality, diversity, inclusion, additional support needs, child protection, and wellbeing;
- frameworks, systems and processes to support and enhance teacher professionalism; and
- biases and their impact on people and practices and challenge these.

2.2.2 Have a depth of knowledge and understanding of Learning CommunitiesProfessional Actions

As a registered teacher you are required to demonstrate a depth of knowledge and understanding of:

- the roles and responsibilities of teachers in establishing and sustaining positive and purposeful relationships across the learning community;
- the distinctive culture, context and ethos of the learning community including Gaelic medium ethos where appropriate; and
- the role of local, regional and national bodies in relation to your different contexts and sectors.

3 Professional Skills and Abilities

3.1 Curriculum and Pedagogy

3.1.1 Plan effectively to meet learners' needs
Professional Actions	As a registered teacher to demonstrate your professional skills and abilities you are required to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ plan coherent, progressive and engaging teaching programmes which address the needs of every learner; ■ plan learning in accordance with current curriculum guidance, including in Gaelic medium education where appropriate; ■ identify the potential barriers to learning and plan differentiated and appropriately challenging learning experiences to ensure learning is accessible for every learner; ■ communicate appropriately with every learner, modelling and promoting competence and confidence in literacy, numeracy, health and wellbeing and digital literacy; ■ ensure teaching builds confidence and promotes the progress of every learner; and ■ plan learning that is creative, sustainable and uses available resources.
3.1.2 Effectively utilise pedagogical approaches and resources
Professional Actions	As a registered teacher to demonstrate your professional skills and abilities you are required to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ create meaningful contexts for learners through a range of different learning environments; ■ employ appropriate teaching strategies and resources, including digital approaches, to meet the needs and abilities of every learner; ■ use self-evaluation and professional learning to support and improve practice; ■ consider feedback about the learning process to inform your teaching; ■ use a wide variety of questioning techniques and a wide range of digital and traditional approaches to enhance learning and teaching; and ■ create opportunities for learning to be transformative in terms of challenging assumptions and expanding world views.
3.1.3 Effectively utilise partnerships for learning and wellbeing
Professional Actions	As a registered teacher to demonstrate your professional skills and abilities you are required to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ contribute to a rights-respecting culture where learners meaningfully participate in decisions related to their learning, wellbeing, learning environment and their school; ■ create and sustain effective working relationships with colleagues, parents/carers, families, wider school community and partner agencies, to support learning and wellbeing across the school and taking a lead role when appropriate; ■ establish opportunities for parents/carers to participate in decisions about their child's learning; ■ practise self-care and support the wellbeing of others seeking support where necessary; ■ develop partnerships which: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - support decision-making that is compatible with a sustainable future in a just and equitable world; - connect learners to their dependence on the natural world and develop their sense of belonging to both the local and global community; and - connect relevance of learning to skills for life, learning and work.

3.1.4 Effectively employ assessment, evaluate progress, recording and reporting as an integral part of the teaching process to support and enhance learning

Professional Actions

As a registered teacher to demonstrate your professional skills and abilities you are required to:

- record, analyse and use assessment data effectively to evaluate learning and teaching;
- use the results of assessment to identify development needs at class, group and individual level and as a basis for dialogue with learners about their progress and targets;
- evaluate and use a range of differentiated assessment strategies that ensure support and challenge for all learners;
- use appropriate formative and summative assessment strategies to provide opportunities for challenge and growth appropriate to the needs of every learner and to meet the requirements of the curriculum and awarding and accrediting bodies;
- engage with moderation and verification processes to inform pedagogy, learners' progress and school improvement;
- produce clear, informative reports for parents/carers, the school and partner agencies which discuss both progress in learning and matters related to personal, social and emotional development in a sensitive and constructive way; and
- apply professional judgement to evidence gathered to inform summative assessment.

3.2 The Learning Context

3.2.1 Effectively organise and manage learning

Professional Actions

As a registered teacher to demonstrate your professional skills and abilities you are required to:

- create a safe, caring and purposeful learning environment which is welcoming and inclusive, well managed and well organised;
- plan and organise effectively to facilitate whole-class lessons, group and individual work and promote independent learning;
- take into account the additional support needs of learners to ensure meaningful learning experiences;
- use a wide range of opportunities that stimulate and reflect ongoing learning in varied and dynamic learning environments;
- enable every learner to make full use of well-chosen resources, including digital technologies, to enhance learning, teaching and assessment, as appropriate;
- create opportunities for learning to be transformative in terms of challenging assumptions and expanding world views; and
- draw on a range of sources to evaluate the impact of the learning environment on every learner and learning and to challenge assumptions, surface bias and adapt provision, as appropriate.

3.2.2 Effectively engage learner participation

Professional Actions

As a registered teacher to demonstrate your professional skills and abilities you are required to:

- value all learners and their participation, actively engaging children and young people in decision-making about their education;
- demonstrate care and commitment to working with every learner, embracing diversity to ensure that every learner feels welcome, included and is ready to learn;
- demonstrate a secure knowledge and understanding of wellbeing indicators, childhood development and the impact of additional support needs;
- recognise that childhood experiences impact on the learning and wellbeing of children and young people and actively respond in appropriate ways, seeking advice and collaborating as required; and
- utilise and evaluate a variety of strategies to nurture caring and supportive and purposeful relationships with learners and celebrate success.

3.2.3 Build positive, respecting relationships for learning

Professional Actions

- As a registered teacher to demonstrate your professional skills and abilities you are required to:
- promote and develop positive and purposeful relationships with and between learners, colleagues, families and partners;
 - use a variety of research-informed approaches to relationship building in a consistent way to build and sustain all professional relationships;
 - communicate appropriately with every learner, modelling and promoting competence and confidence in literacy, numeracy, and health and wellbeing;
 - recognise where learners with additional support needs require alternative approaches and seek support as necessary;
 - commit to and demonstrate equity and inclusion to advance equality of opportunity between learners who share a relevant protected characteristic and those who do not and foster good relations; and
 - encourage learners to respect and care for themselves, others and the natural world.

3.3 Professional Learning

3.3.1 Engage critically with literature, research and policy

Professional Actions

- As a registered teacher to demonstrate your professional skills and abilities you are required to:
- identify and source a range of appropriate literature, research and policy; and
 - engage critically with research to challenge and inform professional practice and critically question and challenge educational assumptions, beliefs and values of self and system.

3.3.2 Engage in reflective practice to develop and advance career-long professional learning and expertise

Professional Actions

- As a registered teacher to demonstrate your professional skills and abilities you are required to:
- commit to lifelong learning, through an ongoing process of professional review and development that impacts on the learning of children and young people;
 - reflect and engage critically in self-evaluation using the relevant professional standard;
 - adopt an enquiring, reflective and critical approach to professional practice;
 - enhance learning and teaching by taking account of feedback from others including children and young people and actively engage in professional learning to support school improvement;
 - work collaboratively to contribute to the professional learning and development of colleagues, including student teachers;
 - maintain a reflective record of evidence of impact of professional learning on self, colleagues and learners; and
 - engage with the Professional Update process.

Inspiring world-class
teaching professionalism

gtc
SCOTLAND
GENERAL TEACHING
COUNCIL FOR SCOTLAND

GTC Scotland

Comhairle Choitcheann Teagaisg nah–Alba
Clerwood House, 96 Clermiston Road,
Edinburgh EH12 6UT
Tel: 0131 314 6000
Fax: 0131 314 6001
E-mail: gtcs@gtcs.org.uk

www.gtcs.org.uk
www.in2teaching.org.uk

